

Due to the Corona epidemic in 2020 the Exhibition of 75 Years Liberation had to be cancelled. We feel it essential to observe this significant anniversary to remember the sacrifices that were made to ensure the freedom of the Dutch now 76 years ago.

Many New Zealand soldiers had joined the English army and gave their life for our freedom; remembering them is the least we can do.

We will forever be in debt to all the allied forces who were involved in the liberation of the Netherlands which started in September 1944 and concluded in May 1945.
